NIHB@40: The Vision That Became One Enduring Voice for American Indian and Alaska Native Health

29th Annual Consumer Conference AND Fortieth Anniversary Celebration

Denver, Colorado • September 24-27, 2012
September 12, 2012

Dear Tribal Leaders, Advocates for Tribal Health, Colleagues and Friends:

It is with a grateful heart that on behalf of the National Indian Health Board’s (NIHB) Board of Directors, I thank you for being part of our 29th Annual Consumer Conference and 40th Anniversary Celebration. This year’s celebration marks two generations of the Tribes supporting one voice in American Indian and Alaska Native health through the organization that the Tribes, themselves, founded in 1972. This 40th year, we hold this conference in Denver, Colorado to honor the birthplace of NIHB.

This year’s conference and celebration is themed NIHB@40: The Vision That Became One Enduring Voice for our People’s Health. This theme honors the Tribes and Tribal Leaders who recognized that only through Tribal unity would our People’s Health issues be heard: Only through Tribal unity would our People’s health improve. For 40 years NIHB has had the honor and the privilege to serve the Tribes with finding our voice, finding unity of purpose and advocating with that one, enduring Tribal Voice. The wisdom of this action in 1972 has resulted in many victories for Indian health; such as, the passage of the Indian Self-Determination and Educational Assistance Act; creating and sustaining the life-changing Special Diabetes Program for Indians; including Tribes in the allocation of vaccines, including H1-N1; strengthening Tribal Consultation; the permanent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act; and the many pro-Indian opportunities we all fought for, and won, in the Affordable Care Act!

None of this happens without the “U” in “UNITY.” It is because of each of you working together to support and strengthen your national Tribal health care voice in NIHB that the national presence of Tribes in health care is so strong and effective. Our strength of presence exists because of Tribal Leaders and Tribes through the Area Indian health boards, regional health organizations and corporations. It exists because of our enduring partnership and unity with friends like the National Congress of American Indians. It exists because of health directors, health advocates and policy experts who tirelessly and generously share their knowledge to benefit us all. It exists because of the individual who has suffered illness and whose stories propel us forward for a better tomorrow.

This week, we invite you to learn with us and to celebrate 40 years of the NIHB. We acknowledge your contributions to our People’s health. You are the legacy that is NIHB. With many, many thanks, I say Chi Miigwech – profound thanks, to you and I look forward the next 40 years of advancing our People’s health.

Yours in Health,

What is the National Indian Health Board?

The National Health Board (NIHB) is a 501(c) 3 not for profit, charitable organization providing health care advocacy services that facilitates Tribal consultation, and provides timely information and other services to all Tribal Governments. Whether Tribes operate their own health care delivery systems through contracting and compacting or receive health care directly from the Indian Health Services (IHS), NIHB is their advocate. NIHB also conducts research, provides policy analysis, program assessment and development, national and regional meeting planning, training, technical assistance, program and project management. These services are provided to Tribes, Area Health Boards, Tribal organizations, federal agencies, and private foundations. The NIHB presents the Tribal perspective while monitoring, reporting on, and responding to federal legislation and regulations. It also serves as a conduit to open opportunities for the advancement of American Indian and Alaska Native health care with national and international organizations, foundations corporations, and others in its quest to build support for, and advance, Indian health care issues.

Raising Awareness

Elevating the visibility of Indian Health care issues has been a struggle shared by Tribal governments, the federal government and private agencies. For 40 years, NIHB has continuously played a central role in focusing national attention on Indian health care needs. These efforts continue to gain results and momentum.

Since 1972, the NIHB has advised the U.S. Congress, IHS, other federal agencies and private foundations about health disparities and service issues experienced in Indian Country. The future of health care for American Indians and Alaska Natives is intertwined with policy decision at the federal level and changes in mainstream health care management.

The NIHB brings to Tribal governments timely information to assist tribes with effectively making sound health care policy decisions.

Our Board of Directors

Because the NIHB serves all federally-recognized tribes, it is important that the work of the NIHB reflect the unity and diversity of Tribal values and opinions in an accurate, fair, and culturally-sensitive manner. This objective is accomplished through the work of the NIHB Board of Directors and Area Indian Health Boards. The NIHB is governed by a Board of Directors consisting of representative elected by the Tribes in each of the twelve IHS Areas. Each Area Indian Health Board elects a representative and an alternate to sit on the NIHB Board of Directors. In Areas where there is no Area Health Board, Tribal governments choose a representative. The Board of Directors elects an Executive Committee comprised of Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Treasurer, Secretary who serve two-year appointments with staggered terms and a Member-at-Large who serves a one year term. The Board of Directors meets quarterly.

National Indian Health Board
National Indian Health Board’s 40th Year Anniversary

The Great Plains Tribal Chairmen’s Health Board would like to take this opportunity to extend a warm welcome to distinguished Tribal leaders, honored elders and veterans, health educators, administrators, healthcare professionals, advocates, and other supporters of Indian health attending the National Indian Health Board’s Annual Consumer Conference. The Board commends you for sharing your time, wisdom and vision at this conference. These gifts, shared with each other, illuminate our path forward – a path that builds on our many strengths, one that considers our pressing needs, and one that leads to better health and wellness for our people.

The Great Plains Tribal Chairmen’s Health Board appreciates the leadership of the National Indian Health Board (NIHB) in bringing together, supporting and empowering Tribal leaders to address the healthcare concerns of their members. NIHB has led this charge for the past 40 years, advocating for all Tribal nations and American Indian and Alaska Native people. We celebrate NIHB’s past service and wish them continued success!

The Great Plains Tribal Chairmen’s Health Board hopes your participation at the Annual Consumer Conference will provide you with opportunities to share with each other and provide you with new tools to strengthen your health programs, for the benefit of all the people you serve and Indian Country.

In Wellness,

Jerilyn Church, MSW

Friends, Colleagues, and Supporters:

On behalf of the Alaska Native Health Board (ANHB), we are pleased to support the National Indian Health Board’s (NIHB) 40th Anniversary Celebration and 29th Annual Consumer Conference. In an unprecedented milestone, NIHB has offered four decades of continuous support and advocacy for all American Indian and Alaska Native people.

While NIHB’s work is seen throughout the year and across the United States, it is during the Annual Consumer Conference that their value and efforts are truly exemplified. Bringing together tribal leaders and health providers from across Indian Country, mutual challenges are addressed and stories of success are shared.

Representing 231 federally-recognized tribes spanning 663,267 square miles, ANHB is no stranger to the inherent difficulties in bringing together a large number of tribal leaders and health providers. However, in meeting this challenge, we understand the value created when all perspectives are included and, through the sharing of individual wisdom and experience, a unified voice can then be heard by those needing to hear it most.

It is in the spirit of this goal that ANHB is proud to support the ongoing work of NIHB and the Annual Consumer Conference. We look forward to this year’s conference and continuing the shared mission of strengthening the health and wellbeing of our people.

Sincerely,

Lincoln Bean, Sr.

Re: Letter of Support, of NIHB’s 29th Annual Consumer Conference and 40th Anniversary Celebration

Dear Ms. Bohlen,

As Chairman of the Montana/Wyoming Tribal Leaders Council’s Committee on Health, I would like to express my congratulations on the National Indian Health Board’s 40th Anniversary and my support for the 29th Annual Consumer Conference & Marketplace being held in Denver, Colorado September 24-27th.

NIHB has been a strong advocate for the health of Tribes in the Billings Area. With the Tribal Leaders support, both locally and nationally, NIHB has been pushing for improvements in our people’s health, health systems and health policies as well as strengthening consultation and increasing appropriations for forty years. Two outstanding items to mention are the Special Diabetes Program for Indians and the permanent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act.

We look forward to continued collaborations with NIHB and ongoing efforts to address the health disparities impacting Montana and Wyoming Tribes.

Sincerely,

Dear Attendees,

Welcome to the National Indian Health Board’s 29th Annual Consumers Conference and Fortieth Anniversary Celebration. Congratulations to the NIHB and all its supporters!

My name is Michelle Hayward and I represent the California Area at the National Indian Health Board level. I am of Wintu descent and am the elected official of the Redding Rancheria Tribal Council. I was elected as the Chairperson of the California Rural Indian Health Board (CRIHB) last year. I also serve as the California representative on the IHS Contract Support Cost Committee.

CRIHB has been diligently working on health issues including the Affordable Care Act (ACA), the reauthorization of the Special Indian Diabetes Program and IHS funding over the past year. With the help of James Crouch, Executive Director, Mark LeBeau, Health Policy Analyst and the California Rural Indian Health Board Members, we met with Congressional Representatives on Capitol Hill in March to push these issues. We requested funding for implementation of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (IHCIA), additional funding for Contract Health Services and funding for a California Youth Regional Treatment Center (YRTC). Out of the 12 regions, California is the last to build a YRTC as promised over 20 years ago to all of the IHS Areas.

Margo Kerrigan, Director IHS California Area and her staff have been working very actively on this issue. We will keep bringing this topic to the forefront to congressional member’s attention until we receive the funding California needs to build and operate the last YRTC for our youth who desperately need it.

We have held many Health Care Forums on the Affordable Care Act across Indian Country in California to educate the community on how health care reform will impact the Indian communities and formed local advocacy groups for networking purposes. The Special Diabetes Program for Indians grant will end September 2013, and we are requesting the funding be renewed. This will affect us all if the Special Diabetes Program for Indians is not funded. This funding has improved the health of our people with diabetes throughout the United States and we cannot afford for this funding to go away. We all need to get involved; please visit NIHB’s website at www.nihb.org/sdpi for many resources to help you get involved. There is much work to be done.

I hope all of you enjoy the NIHB 29th Annual Consumer Conference and celebrate the 40 years of success at NIHB. I hope I get the honor of meeting many of you.

Sincerely,

Dear Tribal Leaders, NIHB Board of Directors, Tribal health professionals, and other delegates:

On behalf of the United South and Eastern Tribes, Inc. (USET), a non-profit, inter-tribal organization that collectively represents its member Tribes at the regional and national level, I write today to express our support and well wishes in the success of the National Indian Health Board’s (NIHB) 40th Annual Consumer Conference that’s scheduled, September 24-27, 2012 in Denver, Colorado.

USET was established over forty years ago and has grown to include twenty-six federally recognized Indian Tribes operating through various committees and programs. USET member Tribes include: Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, Mississippi Band of Choctaw Indians, Miccosukee Tribe of Florida, Seminole Tribe of Florida, Chitimacha Tribe of Louisiana, Cayuga Nation, Coushatta Tribe of Louisiana, Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, Passamaquoddy Tribe at Pleasant Point, Passamaquoddy Tribe at Indian Township, Penobscot Indian Nation, Seneca Nation of Indians, Houlton Band of Maliseet Indians, Poarch Band of Creek Indians, Tunica-Biloxi Tribe of Louisiana, Narragansett Indian Tribe, Mashantucket Pequot Indian Tribe, Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head, (Aquinnah), Alabama-Coushatta Tribe of Texas, Oneida Indian Nation of New York, Aroostook Band of Micmac of Maine, Catawba Indian Nation, Jena Band of Choctaw Indians, Mohegan Tribe of Connecticut, Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe and the Shinnecock Indian Nation. Our member Tribes can be found in 12 states from the Canadian Border in Maine and New York, along the east coast to Florida, west into Mississippi and south into Texas. Due to this large geographic area, the Tribes in the Eastern Region have incredible diversity.

Both individually, as well as collectively through USET, our member Tribes work to improve health care services for American Indians and Alaska Natives (AI/AN). Our member Tribes operate in the Nashville Area of the Indian Health Service (IHS), which contains 36 IHS and Tribal health care facilities. Our members receive health care services both directly at IHS facilities, as well as through tribally operated facilities operated under contracts with IHS pursuant to the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (ISDEAA), P.L. 93-638.

Through the support and guidance of USET member Tribes, USET established the Tribal Health Program Support (THPS) department within the organization to provide health and policy information, technical assistance and training to member Tribes. The THPS team includes 14 highly qualified staff and multiple contractors responsible for managing the Health Information and Policy Analysis Function, Tribal Epidemiology Center, Area Diabetes Program, Tribal Data Improvement & Health Informatics Program, and Dental Support Center for its member Tribes.

It’s an exciting time in health for Indian Country and the NIHB Annual Consumer Conference is most timely. USET, as with NIHB and other Tribal Organization across the country, is dedicated to enhancing the development of Indian Tribes, to improving the health status of AI/ANs, and to assisting Tribes and their governments with public health policy issues that influence the health needs of Indian people.

USET would like to express our appreciation for the continued partnership that we’ve established with NIHB and we wish you a successful conference.

Sincerely,

Dear Colleague,

I am honored to welcome the NIHB home to its place of birth here in Denver, Colorado. I also am pleased to welcome you back to the 29th NIHB Annual Consumer Conference, 40th Celebration! Our conference theme “NIHB @ 40: The Vision that Became One Enduring Voice for Our People’s Health,” represents our achievements and the fortitude it takes to improve the health care system of American Indians and Alaska Natives.

It seems not too long ago that we began this journey to discuss the challenges and opportunities of health care advocacy. Your attendance at this 40th Celebration is evidence of your commitment to and investment in our children, families, and communities.

The result of NIHB’s vision has unveiled many successes, some spiritual, educational and historic. One example is the reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (IHCIA). Without this major accomplishment the Navajo Nation would not be in the position to conduct the Medicaid Feasibility Study, a study that surely would lead to running our own Medicaid agency! Today we have the ability to successfully deliver quality federal health programs directly to meet the needs of native people. Exercising control of our health care destination by developing innovative and traditional health care systems is exercising our sovereignty.

As in our previous gatherings we have built on the success of the previous year’s conference, to provide you with a sense on continuity and stability. In returning to the birthplace of NIHB, we also invite you to revisit the vision, the mission, the values and principles that have brought NIHB thus far, to the national status and influence that we now exert. Let us commit ourselves once more to healthy and strong lives for all our people.

The NIHB and the Navajo Nation thank you for your attendance. We are grateful to all conference attendees, sponsors, partnering organizations and all native communities.

Sincerely,

Rex Lee Jim, Vice President

Dear Tribal Leaders, NIHB Board of Directors, Tribal health professionals and other delegates:

Welcome to the National Indian Health Board (NIHB) 40th Annual Consumer Conference in Denver, Colorado. The Oklahoma City Area Inter-Tribal Health Board (OCAITHB), a non profit organization, is excited to support and participate in the celebration of NIHB's "The Vision That Became One Enduring Voice for Our People's Health."

OCAITHB was established in 1972 to provide a unified voice to improve the health and quality of life of Indian people living within the Indian Health Service Oklahoma City Service Area (IHS-OCA) through advocacy and participating on local and national health committees and workgroups. IHS-OCA service area includes the states of Kansas, Oklahoma, portions of Texas and one county in Nebraska. Within the OCA-IHS service area there are forty-three federally recognized Indian tribes, six hospitals (two IHS and four Tribal), one youth residential treatment center, and four urban programs.

OCAITHB is supportive and dedicated to assisting the NIHB's Annual Consumer Conference and other Tribal Organizations advocate and improve the quality of life of Indian people nationwide.

We look forward to an informative and successful conference.

Sincerely,

Ms. Diddy Nelson

Dear Chairperson Abramson,

The marking of the 40th Anniversary of the National Indian Health Board (NIHB) is a significant achievement. The Inter Tribal Council of Arizona (ITCA) congratulates NIHB! There have been numerous accomplishments, most notably, years of work supporting the Tribal Nations that led to the permanent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act, which is a part of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. The measure signed into law in 2010, contains numerous American Indian policy provisions which afford the participation of American Indian and Alaska Native peoples in health care reform. NIHB should also be congratulated for supporting Tribes in creating and sustaining the Special Diabetes Program for Indians and the Methamphetamine and Suicide Prevention Initiative.

Further, NIHB must be congratulated for years of constant vigilance on Indian Health Service appropriations through on-going support of the National Tribal Budget Work Group which annually develops tribal recommendations on the IHS budget following a national process of consultation.

The Inter Tribal Council of Arizona, Inc. which is also a tribally directed non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation is proud of its affiliation with NIHB as our staff must have the ability to provide support to the NIHB Board members that represent the Tribes in the Phoenix Area and the Tucson Area Indian Health Service regions. The constant communication has been a vital link which allows the Tribal Leaders, Tribal Organizations and Tribal Health Directors in Arizona, Nevada and Utah the ability to keep pace with the magnitude of health care policy, including regulations that many times must be altered to address American Indian health program needs.

ITCA’s mission and vision which closely aligns with NIHB with regard to health advocacy and technical assistance provided to the Tribes and is also celebrating its 37th Anniversary this year. Our efforts began in 1952, when the elected leaders of nine Indian Tribes in Arizona formed an association to provide members with a united voice. The purpose of the association was to address the issues that affected the Tribes collectively or individually. This forum enabled tribal governments in Arizona to combine their efforts and resources for common goals. In 1975, with the realization that “these challenges and opportunities require the force of united and concerted voice and action which one tribe alone does not possess,” the Tribes established the Inter Tribal Council of Arizona, Inc.

In 1984, Tribes in the Phoenix Area established the Tribal Health Steering Committee for the Phoenix Area Indian Health Service. ITCA provides staff support to the elected tribal leaders that serve on the Committee to enable them to provide regular advisement to the Area Office. The Steering Committee is honored that Vice-President Martin Harvier of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, serves as the Phoenix Area Representative and that Amanda Barrera, Councilmember, of the Colorado River Indian Tribes, serves as the Alternate on the NIHB Board of Directors. Also in behalf of the Tribes in the Tucson Area, which jointly select their Representative, ITCA is honored that Francis G. Antone, Legislative Councilmember of the Tohono O’Odham Nation serves on the NIHB Board of Directors.

ITCA, Inc. is looking forward to continued collaboration in order to alleviate on-going health issues and concerns brought to our attention by the Tribes in behalf of their members. Please do not hesitate to contact myself or John Lewis, Executive Director, so that our work together may continue.

Sincerely,

Diane Enos, President
Inter Tribal Council of Arizona, Inc.

Dear Tribal leaders, colleagues, and supporters,

On behalf of the Albuquerque Area Indian Health Board, we welcome you to the 40th Anniversary National Indian Health Board Annual Consumer Conference in Denver, Colorado. This year, we take the time to celebrate and reflect upon 40 successful years of health advocacy for our tribal communities. Forty years ago, the founders of this invaluable organization had a vision that the tribal nations would unite to advocate for quality health care. Today, this organization continues to foster this vision. Many of our tribal nations have been fortunate to witness the many victories of the National Indian Health Board, including leading the way for the permanent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act.

As we look into the future, we must remember that there is undeniable strength in unity and this conference is a celebration of the partnerships, leadership, and resiliency that have empowered our tribal communities to take control of their wellness and health. Our tribes, health boards, and tribal organizations must continue to work together to eliminate the health disparities that our tribal communities face and strive for health equity in opportunities and resources. The Albuquerque Area Indian Health Board is committed to the continued partnership with NIHB and tribes across the Nation.

We pause to remember our ancestors and thank them and our community members, past and current leaders for your dedication and compassion for our tribal communities.

Respectfully,

Lester Secatero

NIHB 29th Annual Consumer Conference and 40th Anniversary Celebration 15
Greetings!

Welcome to the National Indian Health Board’s 40th Anniversary Celebration and 29th Annual Consumer Conference. I am delighted to welcome you to Denver.

This conference will be an outstanding venue for American Indian and Alaska Native people to learn about resources, programs, and changes in health care. This event arises at a time when we are witnessing so many changes to our health care system at both a national and local level. Since American Indian and Alaska Native people can be adversely affected by a number of health issues, it is important to promote dialogue that will improve the lives of everyone in these communities.

I applaud the National Indian Health Board’s representatives and volunteers of this conference for their dedication and foresight in bringing all of these resources together.

On behalf of the citizens of the 1st Congressional District of Colorado, I want to extend our best wishes and congratulations to the National Indian Health Board on your 40th Anniversary. May you have many celebrations ahead!

Sincerely,

Diana DeGette

Greetings:

It is my pleasure to extend a “Mile High” welcome to the National Indian Health Board to Denver. This 29th annual Consumer Conference is a great opportunity to come together to explore new and better ways to service the American Indian and Alaska Native community.

This year’s conference is a chance to honor those heroes who have helped to advance the health needs of the Indian community. It is also an opportunity to learn more about the implementation of the Affordable Care Act, the permanent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act as well as other issues affecting Indian health.

We are excited that you chose Denver as the host city for this year’s conference. We invite all of you to explore the many amenities the city has to offer. Denver’s downtown is one of the nation’s most walkable cities and boasts a variety of attractions, including the nation’s second largest performing arts complex, three art museums, three sports stadiums, a U.S. Mint, more than 300 restaurants, and the largest city park system in the country.

At an elevation of 5,280 feet above sea level, Denver is truly a mile high. We sincerely hope that you have an informative and enjoyable conference. Have a great time and enjoy your stay!

Sincerely,

Michael B. Hancock
Mayor
Dear NIHB Conference attendee:

On behalf of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), welcome to the National Indian Health Board’s (NIHB) 40th Anniversary Celebration and 29th Annual Consumer Conference.

CDC is committed to working with federally recognized tribal governments. Over the past year, we have streamlined and enhanced our tribal support efforts. As part of these measures, we have hired Delight Satter, M.P.H., as our new associate director for tribal support. The agency has also developed a stronger and more unified program to act as the principal contact for all tribal-related public health activities in the agency. The program will be the CDC principal advisor and liaison to policy officials.

Through biannual consultation with the CDC Tribal Advisory Committee, the agency works to ensure that policies, guidelines, and programmatic strategies affecting the health of tribes are both appropriate and effective. Funding opportunities enable us to further support our partners who focus on the health of American Indian and Alaska Native populations. Our current grantees include tribal nations, direct tribal consortia, as well as state, local, and non-profit organizations that support Indian tribes and urban Indian populations.

CDC hopes this conference encourages you to continue to support our shared goal of quality health care and improved health for tribal populations. We look forward to strengthening the relationship between tribal governments and CDC to promote the health of American Indian and Alaska Native communities.

Sincerely,

Thomas R. Frieden, M.D., M.P.H.
Director, CDC
Dear conference attendees:

On behalf of the Office of Minority Health at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), I am pleased to send warm greetings to all who have gathered for the National Indian Health Board's Annual Consumer Conference. And congratulations to NIHB on the celebration of their 40th anniversary – marking four decades of invaluable contributions to improving the health of American Indians and Alaska Natives.

At a time when our system of health care is undergoing remarkable change, there have never been greater opportunities to address the health disparities that have long affected Indian Country. With the signing of the Affordable Care Act, the permanent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act, and the launch of the HHS Action Plan to Reduce Racial and Ethnic Health Disparities, and the National Partnership for Action to End Health Disparities, we have taken a critical step toward realizing our vision of health equity.

As we work to address the health challenges in Indian Country, we look forward to continuing our collaboration and honoring our government-to-government relationship with our Tribal partners. This conference is an important opportunity to strengthen those ties, and listen and learn from one another. I look forward to taking part in many rich discussions in the days to come.

Please accept my best wishes for a successful meeting, and my appreciation for your engagement and hard work.

Sincerely,

Welcome Friends and Colleagues:

On behalf of the Indian Health Service (IHS), I would like to extend a warm welcome to attendees of the 40th Anniversary Celebration and 29th Annual National Indian Health Board (NIHB) Consumer Conference. I wish you a successful conference and hope you enjoy your time in Denver.

The theme for this year’s conference is “NIHB @ 40: The Vision That Became One Enduring Voice for Our People’s Health.” It is heartening to know that hundreds of Tribal leaders, healthcare providers, and supporters of Indian health are gathering to discuss successes, challenges, opportunities, and the future of health care for American Indian and Alaska Native people. This is an opportunity to look forward and learn more about how we are working together to change and improve the IHS.

IHS values its partnership with NIHB. I meet regularly with the NIHB Board of Directors and have attended the NIHB Annual Consumer Conference for many years. We have several collaborative activities with NIHB on health policy issues important to Indian Country and I know that these activities are helping improve the health of Tribal communities. Our partnership with NIHB and the Tribes we serve has helped us make progress in changing and improving the IHS, and has been critical in the progress we have made in the past few years with a 29 percent increase in the IHS budget since 2008. We value our partnership with NIHB on outreach and education activities on the Affordable Care Act and the recent reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act to ensure that our community members know how they can benefit from this important new law. The work that NIHB does to advance healthcare for American Indians and Alaska Natives represents an important partnership that helps IHS achieve its mission.

Thank you for attending NIHB’s 40th Anniversary Celebration and 29th Annual Consumer Conference. I hope that this week’s events are informative, engaging, and most of all, motivating and inspiring. We have made much progress over the past few years, but it is clear that we need to continue to work together in partnership as there is much more to do to improve the health of the communities we serve. On behalf of the IHS, I wish everyone a successful time in Denver.

Sincerely,

Yvette Roubideaux, M.D., M.P.H.

Dear Friends:

I want to offer a warm Colorado welcome to the National Indian Health Board’s 40th Anniversary Celebration and 29th Annual Consumer Conference. I am glad that you have gathered in Denver for such an important event. I hope that you have the chance to enjoy some of the beauty and hospitality of our great state.

It is an exciting time to be meeting, as the tribal provisions of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act are making a difference to improve the health and wellness of American Indians.

As you know, the theme for this year’s conference is the “NIHB @ 40: The Vision That Became One Enduring Voice for Our People’s Health.” This is an excellent opportunity to honor those who work every day to advance the health of Alaska Natives and American Indians. This is also a time to focus on the diligent and effective implementation of the new health care law’s provisions. We can continue to increase access and quality care for the young and the elderly, recruit and retain qualified health care professionals, expand mental and behavioral health programs, and further develop modern tribal health care facilities.

I wish you the best for a successful conference and I look forward to hearing about the discussions that you have here so that we can continue to build partnerships as we all move forward during a time of innovative change in our health care system. Thank you for all of the work that you do in promoting the health of America’s first people.

Sincerely,

Michael F. Bennet
United States Senator

Dear Friends:

Thank you all for inviting me to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the National Indian Health Board at the 29th NIHB Annual Consumer Conference and Marketplace. I am sorry I could not be there in person to welcome you to Colorado. It is my pleasure to extend my warmest greetings and best wishes to all of you on this momentous occasion.

The National Indian Health Board’s efforts to provide aid to tribal governments while strengthening healthcare for American Indians and Alaska Native people are truly impressive and worthy of special recognition. These efforts underline the commitment we share to promote the welfare and well-being of all Americans. To the guests of honor attending today, your work is evidence of the very best of our country and its commitment to help those in need.

Our lives our continuously enriched by activities such as the NIHB Annual Consumer Conference and Marketplace which highlight the future of health care management between federal and tribal governments. I hope you will be inspired to take full advantage of the many options available to you at the conference and to apply what you learn here when you return to your daily lives. Thank you all for your service and commitment to such an important cause.

Again, congratulations on your 40th anniversary, and best wishes for the future.

Warm Regards,

Mark Udall

OFFICE OF MINORITY HEALTH:
HEALTH RESEARCH ADVISORY COMMITTEE (HRAC) MEETING

The American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) HRAC was established by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to provide the Department with a forum for direct consultation and collaboration with Tribes. The HRAC serves as an advisory body to Office of Minority Health (OMH) and the HHS on AI/AN health issues and research priorities. Members of the council are elected Tribal officials, including one delegate and alternate from each of the 12 Indian Health Service areas and four (4) National At-Large Members.

The HRAC serves three primary functions: (1) to obtain input from Tribal leaders on health needs and research priorities for their communities; (2) to provide a forum for HHS and Tribal leaders to better coordinate AI/AN health research activities; (3) to provide a conduit for disseminating information to Tribes about AI/AN health findings.

Update From Secretary’s Tribal Advisory Committee (STAC)

In late 2010, the HHS Secretary, Kathleen Sebelius, created the Secretary’s Tribal Advisory Committee (STAC), the first Tribal advisory committee established to directly advise the Secretary in the history of HHS. The Committee is comprised of one primary representative from each of the twelve Service Areas of the Indian Health Service (IHS), as well as five at-large national representatives. The STAC’s primary purpose is to seek consensus, exchange views, share information and provide advice and/or recommendations; or facilitate any other interaction related to intergovernmental responsibilities or administration of HHS programs, including those that arise explicitly or implicitly under statute, regulation or executive order.

Established by Congress in 1997, the Special Diabetes Program for Indians (SDPI) is a response to the diabetes epidemic among American Indians and Alaska Natives (AI/ANs). Administered by the Indian Health Service’s Division of Diabetes Treatment and Prevention (DDTP) and with guidance from the Tribal Leaders Diabetes Committee (TLDC), the SDPI programs use evidence-based, community-driven diabetes treatment and prevention strategies that address each stage of the disease. SDPI has become our nation’s most strategic and effective federal effort in combating diabetes in Tribal communities. SDPI funding has led to significant advances in prevention, education, and treatment. It is saving lives, transforming communities and putting us on a path to a diabetes-free future in Indian Country. This session will feature perspectives on how SDPI is addressing diabetes as well as the prospects for securing renewal of the program this year. Speakers will include leaders in Congress, Tribal leaders, top scientists and researchers. This is your opportunity to learn about what has been accomplished, what remains to be done, and how you can get involved to help ensure this vital program remains in Indian Country.

Presenters:
Jason Heinecke, REC Director, NHIB
Tom Kauley, REC Consultant, NHIB
Nicki Todd, Project Officer, Office of the National Coordinator (ONC), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
This workshop will provide an overview of the NIHB Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health (HITECH) program. This project is funded by the ONC. The NIHB Regional Extension Center (REC) is the only national HITECH center providing services to health facilities in 35 states. The NIHB REC has signed up more than 2,700 Primary Care Providers working in Indian Health Service/Tribal/Urban health facilities. Information will be provided on a broad range of initiatives supported by the Center including the Native Health IT Native Workforce Training Program. The workshop participants will also be provided with information related to “Putting the ‘I’ in Health IT.”

The Healthy Native Babies Project provides Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) risk-reduction messages to American Indians/Alaska Natives (AI/AN) via culturally and regionally appropriate training and outreach materials. The Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), working with AI/AN stakeholders, developed this project with the following deliverables: Workbook, resource CD, and a toolkit program for developing community-tailored materials, and training sessions. The materials and training encourage further development of community-specific cultural competence. Each outreach coordinator, health educator, and community partner can choose the most appropriate outreach approach for his or her specific audience.

There are critical gaps in health care coverage in Indian country whether or not American Indians and Alaska Natives have access to healthcare through the Indian Health Service. Closing the gaps in coverage will rely on both expanding eligibility criteria of Medicaid and on subsidizing costs of private insurance available through new state Health Insurance Exchanges. This workshop is designed to provide the audience with the latest information from U.S. Census, which is valuable to many people interested in outreach and enrollment of low income American Indians and Alaska Natives in state Medicaid programs and Health Insurance Exchanges to reduce the unmet need for comprehensive health care coverage in Indian country.

The VA-IHS MOU was signed by Dr. Robert Petzel, VA Under Secretary for Health and Dr. Yvette Roubideaux, Director, IHS on October 1, 2010. The Memorandum’s principal goals are for VA and IHS to promote patient-centered collaborations in consultation with Tribes. Although national in scope, the MOU provides the necessary flexibility to tailor programs through local implementation. VA leadership believes that by bringing together the strengths and resources of each organization, we will improve the health status of American Indian and Alaska Native Veterans.

VA and IHS collaborate on areas such as services and benefits, coordination of care, health information technology, implementation of new technologies, payment and reimbursement, sharing of services, cultural competency and awareness, training and recruitment, and others. This presentation will provide an overview of the areas of collaboration and encourages discussion of local best practices focused on Veteran care.

What Will Sequestration Mean for American Indian and Alaska Native Health?
On September 14, 2012, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) issued its report on Sequestration. The report notes that the 2% exemption, as provided under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, for the Indian Health Service (IHS) accounts (services and facilities) applies “only for a discretionary cap sequestration and such accounts are fully sequesterable under a Joint Committee sequestration.” This means that nearly all of the Indian health service’s budget is subject to a 2% cut under the upcoming sequestration (which is a $317 million cut for services in FY 2013). The IHS’s mandatory accounts (e.g. SDPI) is subject to a 2% cap. The 8.2% cut is quite different than what was originally understood and reported by many.

Presenters:
Anne Helene Skinstad, PhD, Director, Prairielands Addiction Technology Transfer Center (ATTC)
Erin Thin Elk, MSW, Director of the Northern Plains Behavioral Health Programs, Great Plains Tribal Chairman's Health Board (GPTCHB)

Substance use disorders are considered a chronic disease and clients in recovery need support from their community to be able to maintain sobriety. The shift in service delivery from acute to long term care is often referred to as Recovery Oriented Systems of Care. Prairielands ATTC in partnership with the GPTCHB, Northern Plains Behavioral Health Programs, has held talking circles with a number of Tribal behavioral health professionals both in the Northern Plains and Great Lakes regions to explore how this national movement can best be adapted to Native American recovery. The presentation will focus on preliminary results from the talking circles.

Red Star Innovations received a contract from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation to determine the desirability and feasibility of a Tribal Public Health Institute (TPHI). This Tribal Roundtable is one of eight to be held nationally to engage Tribes, Tribal Organizations and other Tribal public health system stakeholders in a consultative process to inform the overall direction of the project. Our objectives are to provide an overview of the project, facilitate discussion to identify strengths and needs of Tribal public health systems; and discuss the potential role of a Tribal public health institute. Input received at the Roundtable will be summarized and reported back to participants and NIHB.

Home Based Primary Care (HBPC)
serves as the primary care provider for veterans with complex chronic diseases for whom traditional clinic based care is not effective. Services include ongoing monitoring of medical needs and changes in functioning, routine comprehensive assessments, coordination of care, and the prevention or early detection of

Jamie Folsom, MS, Project Manager, NNAAPC

NNAAPC worked on a project for the past twelve months to raise the competency of American Indian, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian (and those people serving Native communities) to become informed consumers of health information. Health data is the paving stones for the improved community health, health education and promotion, and advocacy.

It is vital for all communities to understand not just how to locate data, but how to use it. This workshop is designed for individuals new to the health promotion or education field, and will serve to introduce them to concepts of epidemiology and health information. This workshop will utilize original pieces of Native art to frame a discussion around the value of health information in our communities, and the role that this information plays in decision making. Participants will be exposed to various sources of health data on a variety of health issues, as well as how to utilize the data for program improvement, advocacy and sustainability.

The Affordable Care Act encourages the development of new, innovating health care delivery systems that will promote quality health care while lowering health care costs. One such model includes ACOs, which are described as organizations formed by groups of doctors and other health care providers that have agreed to work together to coordinate care for people with Medicare. The workshop will provide an overview of various integrated care and payment reform models, including ACOs, being considered by health care providers and the CMS Innovation Center.

Presenters:
Alda Montiel, Health System Analyst, Inter Tribal Council of Arizona, Inc
Diddy Nelson, Executive Director, Oklahoma City Area Inter-Tribal Health Board, Indian Health Board (IHS)
Mark LeBeau, MS, PhD, Health Policy Analyst, California Rural Indian Health Board, Inc.
Nancy Martine-Alonzo, Executive Director, Albuquerque Area Indian Health Board, Inc.

States have a responsibility to work with tribes, within their boundaries, and to develop health insurance exchanges. This workshop will provide participants with a background and share news on implementation in their states. State health insurance exchanges will carry out several tasks: such as, conducting eligibility determining eligibility, describe health plan choices to consumers, providing outreach to consumers, and enroll beneficiaries. This workshop will focus on the impact of state insurance exchanges for Indian country. We will share current best practices in developing materials and communicating with American Indian and Alaska Native consumers. Tribes need a heads up about what is coming from state Exchanges and this presentation will provide real world experience to help give you the building blocks for the implementation of successful outreach and education strategies.

Phoenix Area Representative

Martin Harvier (Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community) took office as Vice President of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community (SRP-MIC) in December 2006. As Vice President, Harvier supports improving education for Community members and creating opportunities for cultural preservation and promotion. He notes that the Pima were a peaceful people and... believes these feelings could come back into the hearts of families if people know who they are. As Vice President, he will support educational and health-based programming that furthers these goals. Harvier grew up in Poston, Ariz., and when he was in the sixth grade, his family relocated to Sacaton, Ariz., where Harvier attended the Bureau of Indian Affairs School. He graduated from Casa Grande High School in 1977. When Harvier was 19 years old, his father was diagnosed with cancer, and in 1979 lost his battle with the disease. Martin Harvier became the sole support for his mother, three sisters and two brothers. He worked as a chain man on a survey crew for the Gila River Indian Community, and then as a plant mechanic and welder for a company located on the Salt River Indian Community for 11 years. In 1996, the SRPMIC hired Harvier as a civil tech soils tester. In 1998, he was promoted to plant manager of a water pump station, and until assuming the office of Vice President, served as the acting Irrigation Manager for the Community. In his spare time, he coached the Salt River High School baseball team for four years. Although he was not able to continue his education, Harvier has made a point of watching and learning by example. He is committed to treating people with respect and believes that you can tell a lot about someone by how he or she treats others. Harvier and his wife Toni are the proud parents of five children and one grandchild. When not working for the Community or involved with his family, Vice President Harvier is an avid sports fan.

The American Psychiatric Association is pleased to be a sponsor of the 2012 NIHB Conference.

The APA’s 36,000 member physicians work together to ensure human care and effective treatment of all persons with mental disorders, including intellectual developmental disorders and substance use disorders. APA is the voice and conscience of modern psychiatry.
Notes
There has never been a better time to apply!

- Higher income levels for eligibility
- Less paperwork
- Application assistance

Special changes for tribes include:

- Tribal enrollment card for proof of citizenship
- No copayments, deductibles, or premiums

Why should I sign up my kids for health insurance when my family already gets health care at our local clinic?

Medicaid and CHIP Programs:

- Cover the cost of health services your clinic may not currently provide
- Allow your family more options - you can still go to your local clinic and also to other clinics, hospitals and physician offices that accept Medicaid and CHIP
- Stretch tribal health care dollars so our communities can provide more services in the future

In many states, Medicaid and CHIP coverage includes:

- Doctors Visits
- Hospitalizations
- Behavioral Health
- Specialty Care
- Emergency Care
- Pregnancy
- Prenatal Care
- Prescriptions
- Screenings
- Vaccinations
- Transportation
- Vision
- Dental
- Hearing
